Product Overview

Jenson Funding Partners

Track record of SEIS and EIS Investing – investing in SEIS since 2012 with 100 investments to date and five exits, investing in EIS since 2015.¹

Investment Strategy

- Capital deployment through deal flow introduced by Jenson.
- Extensive Due Diligence.

EIS investment

The Fund will concentrate on the best of the existing Jenson portfolio but will always be benchmarked relative to new external company opportunities. This is combined with the very best companies that we see in the classic equity gap which is typically under served by the traditional EIS and VCT funds.

Support

- Our support programme provides financial and operational support to investee companies.
- MICAP report available.
- Bi-annual investor reports with ad hoc updates on request.

Investment case study: Voneus

Jenson first invested £150,000 into Voneus, a technology business which provides superfast broadband to rural areas and internet blackspots, from our SEIS Fund 1 in October 2013. Since then we have raised follow on funding for Voneus acting as a cornerstone investor, investing just over £420,000 of EIS funds.

For the last seven years Jenson has worked alongside founder Steve Leighton, CEO, and his team, to help them achieve their goal of becoming the market leader in super-fast broadband for hard to reach areas.

The company has changed significantly since first receiving investment. From zero revenues and only employing founders, it has been revenue producing for a number of years, employing over 20 people, has made acquisitions, raised venture debt finance (of almost £5 million) and recently partnered with Macquarie Capital, who made an initial investment of £10 million with the potential to invest up to £30 million in phases. Part of the proceeds will be used to support the rollout of further high-speed broadband to rural parts of the UK.

Voneus is now valued at £14 million and has a platform and a team enabling significant growth.

Exits

Jenson takes a long-term view on the EIS Fund's Investments and aims to only look at the possibility of exiting an investment after it has been held for at least three years, thereby ensuring that the investment has met one of the key qualifying conditions necessary for investors to obtain the tax reliefs.

At present the EIS Funds are still in their infancy and therefore have not had any exits. However, Jenson have successfully exited five companies across its first two SEIS Funds, Twizoo, Way2Pay, Acuity, Market Making, and Futurium. In all but one of these cases they were cash exits.

The one exception is Market Making, the majority was in cash with some publicly traded stock. The current return is 3.7x investment with a mix of shares and equity (before tax incentives and performance fee), with earnouts this could potentially reach a 12x return.

¹ To date, out of the 100 investments made, 32 of those companies are no longer trading.
